^a High-Risk Count is the total number of high-risk policies in each risk class.

^b High-Risk Rate is the total number of high-risk policies in each risk class divided by the total number of policies for that risk class.

^c High-Risk Percent is the number of high-risk policies in each risk class divided by 100.

Figure 3 Low-Risk / High-Risk Policies as a Percent of Total Policies

Percent High-Risk Policies by Risk Class

All policies are displayed on the left (100%), segmented by low-risk (blue) and high-risk policies (yellow). On the right, high-risk policies are further segmented; the pie chart represents one hundred percent of the high-risk policies segmented by risk class.
